About Kingsway

Kingsway is a distinguished business consulting organisation with an extensive presence in both Australia and China. Our expertise and prowess encompasses the fundamental fields of telecommunications, property acquisition, development & sales, tourism, education, immigration and financial services. We are committed to work with our visionary clients to augment our collective vision of affinity and prosperity between the Australian and Chinese business community. Our objective is to utilise and implement dynamic and innovative strategies to facilitate a flourishing Australia-China partnership.

Kingsway's history

Kingsway is passionate in our mission to promote cultural and economic bilateral trade and investment partnerships between Australia and China. Kingsway was founded by Jeffery Wang in 1996, opening a mobile phone store located at Church Street, Parramatta. Kingsway derives from more than 20 years of experience and has developed into a vibrant company covering various industries and sectors to stimulate commercial ventures between Australia and China.
